

QUORUM ESSENTIAL TOMORROW

STUDENTS' SOCIETY TO MEET

Referendums, the Union's new constitution, and the position of the Vice-President of S.E.C. will be the main items under discussion at tomorrow's Students' Society meeting. It is essential that a quorum of 300 members of the Society be present at the meeting which will take place at 1 pm, in the Union Ballroom.

Union Constitution

A new constitution is being proposed by the Union's present executive. According to the proposed document a Board of Managers would be in complete charge. The membership thereof would consist of an executive, the chairmen of the Union sub-committees, and a group of ex-officio members.

President

The executive shall consist of a President, to be elected by the male member of the student body in March of each year. (The constitution does not require him to have two years of experience as it was previously suggested.) Under a separate issue, to be put forth at the Students' Society meeting, it will be moved that his position be also that of Vice-President of the S.E.C.

Women's Vice President

A Women's Vice-President shall be a female undergraduate to be elected from among the female members of the student body. The Women's Union unanimously approved of having a liaison officer on the Union Board of Managers, it was announced today. She will be elected in March of each year from among second or third year, resident or non-resident members of the Women's Union.

Chairman of Board of Managers

The Chairman of the Board of Managers shall be appointed by the retiring executive among those who have formerly served on the House Committee, subject to the approval of the S.E.C. This will replace the position previously held by an elected Men's Vice-President.

Chairmen of Sub-committees

Each sub-committee shall be headed by a chairman who shall be appointed by the Board of Managers from the sub-committee members in March of each year, after the election of the President.

In order that in the future im-

Election Time

Last year 59% of the student body went to the polls. Student officials are hoping for a better turn-out this time.

POSTS CONTESTED IN HONOUR SOCIETIES

Among today's elections there will be voting for membership in McGill's two honour societies, Scarlet Key and Red Wing.

Thirty-eight men are contesting Scarlet Key positions, with two acclamations — Ricky Adrian in Commerce Group A, and Derek Hanson in Law — being proclaimed.

The following were named to run:

Engineering: group A — John

Abbott, Dave Bruno, John Philip, Tim Wagg, Danny Wainberg, and G. J. Tous; group B — Steve Allison, Lewis Donolo, Harvey Kolodny, and Tom Ryder.

Arts and Science: Group A — Peter Braunstein, Don Harterre, Tony Ashworth, Lewis Winter, Richard Hutchison, and Robert Cook; group B — John Puddicombe, George Schafer, and Morman Souaid.

Commerce: group A — Ricky Adrian; group B — Alexander Aird, Taylor Carlin, Peter Monk, and Peter Phippen.

Medicine: group A — Douglas Crowell, and Mamori Watanabe; group B — Hector Blejer-Prito and Sam Clark. All four Keys from Medicine were acclaimed.

Architecture: group A — Jacques Reeves, Jean-Eudes Guy.

Dentistry: group A — Ernie Burman, Matthew Reutky, John Tonchin; group B — Hershel Bernstein, Don Gagnon, and Bill Shaw.

Seventeen girls have been selected to run for positions on the Red Wing Society. They are:

Second year: Denise Benzacar, Mary Bright, Ruth Fenton, Joan

portant issues be voted on even after the failure of a quorum to turn out at the Students' Society meeting, it was proposed and passed, last year, that a referendum be held at the discretion of the S.E.C. The motion, however, specified only that the number of voters required to carry a motion in a referendum be the same as the quorum of the Students Society. The University Senate—composed of various deans and professors — rejected the proposed innovation, asking that the required number be 20 per cent of the members of the Students Society. Consequently only an amendment will be presented.

French Editor Speaks On

Power of Intellectuals

Campaign of intellectuals such as Francois Mauriac in a political issue like the North African crisis may have — as a direct result — the downfall of government leaders, Albert Beguin, noted French critic, voiced Monday evening.

Mr. Beguin said the influence of Mauriac's articles awoke the public conscience, which in turn caused the fall of several French cabinet ministers and the prime minister, Joseph Laniel, described by Beguin as "le dictateur à tête de boeuf (meat-headed dictator)."

Mr. Beguin, editor of the French political revue Esprit, was addressing a meeting of the French Society in the Union, on the topic, "Have French Intellectuals Become Useless?"

The beginning of the dramatic war between the party of righteousness and liberty, in Spain, important event of the second quarter of this century. While the Catholic Church supported the order party, intellectuals blasted Europe, denouncing political treachery in the name of righteousness, of which Christians are so often to blame."

Many Christians believe that worldly things have little to do with their faith. Whether it is because they absent themselves from the building of new communities, or because they have no desire to have anything to do with the proletariat, it is the duty of Christians to take their place in the "cite de l'homme".

MONTREAL, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1955

PRICE: TWO CENTS

ELECTIONS TODAY - VOTE!

POLLS ARE OPEN NOW

Campus wide elections are being held today for SEC posts and Women's Union Representatives. Polling booths are situated in the basement of the Arts Building and in the lobbies of the Engineering and Architecture Buildings. Students from Law and Physical-Education vote in Day Hall and the Gymnasium, respectively. All the booths will be open from 9 am to 4 pm.

Three SEC acclamations have been declared. Peter Reid is the Commerce Representative, Gail Cuning was acclaimed to represent Music and Divinity, and Harvey Sigman is the Representative from Medicine.

Last year's statistics show that only 59.1% of the student body voted. A much larger turnout is expected this year. The highest percentage of voters, 97.8%, was reached by the faculty of Dentistry last year. Arts and Science students have two votes, whereas all other undergraduates have one vote.

SEC Candidates

In the Faculty of Arts and Science, Sigmund Ein, Roy Heenan, and Ralph Ordower are contesting for two seats on the SEC. Ernest Burman and Phil Samis are the candidates from Dentistry.

Nominees from Engineering are Lawrence Burpee, Dan Wainberg, and George Hamilton. Law students running for election are Harold Ashenmil and Jim Denville. Jerry Miller and Jacques Reeves are contesting the architects' seat on the SEC. Candidates from Physio, Phys-Ed, and Graduate Nurses are Ardice Buchanan and Marvin Johnson.

POOL ROOM FACES CHANGES

In line with the revision of the Union constitution providing for better use of existing facilities, the Pool Room will be open on Thursday evening from 8 pm to 10 pm.

Both men and women will be admitted in the Pool Room which is in the basement of the Union. The regular rates will be in effect. The cost for using the pool tables will be 60 cents per hour. Card tables will be set up and cards may be acquired with a deposit of $1.00.

The Workshop, across the Pool Room in the Union basement, will be open to accommodate the overflow of card players.

Editorial

FOR SAKE OF PRESTIGE

Yesterday's Daily included an article submitted by members of the Scarlet Key executive defending the Society against a criticism which appeared in this column the previous day. They attempted to show that the scheme of appointments that was proposed was impractical, if not impossible. However, the obvious inconsistencies in their arguments fail to do them justice.

The 'Key' members in question base their defence on three observations.

"... screening committee puts in a great number of hours just sorting out the nominations received and cutting them down to a reasonable size. It would be completely impracticable if this, or any other committee, were settled with the responsibility of making the final decision..."

It is suggested, above, that the committee would be required to devote too much time to selection. Surely the executive did not mean to imply that the organization is not worthy of the extra time.

If a hundred applications were received for the Society, it is conceivable that 20 or 30% could be eliminated from the forms alone. The remainder, at 10 minute interviews per applicant, including discussion, could probably be resolved in 15 hours.

As a second argument the executive has forwarded the opinion that it would be impossible to judge the applicants on 10 minute interviews. What they have failed to consider is the fact that under the present system the voters are asked to judge the nominee on a five second acquaintance with his name only.

Thirdly, the executive fears that appointment by a committee would lead to the establishment of a clique. This is highly improbable if the selection committee were composed of Faculty members as well as leading and responsible students. If the fears are truly justified, why has the present selection committee been allowed to function? The threat of cliquishness is no less pronounced here.

The switch from election to selection is not desirable because it will have any effect on membership, but for the reason that it will add considerable prestige to the Scarlet Key Society. A 'Key' member at present can only be considered a figure that is more popular than his fellows. A member under the system of selection could truly be classified as honorary since he has been able to pass a rigid test of character and qualification administered by Staff members and fellow students.

HONEST DOUBT

More than at any other time in his life, the student arriving at a University is faced with an imposing array of extra-curricular activities — athletic, social and religious. Among the athletic and social activities he or she can usually find some club that caters for individual tastes and interests. In religious matters, however, it is only the minority who can settle readily into their particular religious group. The vast majority of students, due mainly either to too much religion, and an enforced attendance at church, or to total indifference and a complete lack of religious background, drift around at a spiritual loss. They are conscious of a need and a seeking, and yet are not too sure how this need can be fulfilled. They are wary of organized religious clubs, which very often tend to become closed groups of individuals of a particular faith. In time, many just drift into atheism or agnosticism. But even atheism is a religion, since it is a response, however misguided, to a spiritual need.

Recently there has been an encouraging sign of a revival of interest in religion on the campus. Articles in the Daily, debates, and discussions on the nature of Christianity, have all tended to make people think about religion. People seem less self-conscious about expressing their religious views, and there appears to be a genuine seeking, and honest desire to find out about religion.

The theologians are to be commended for the readiness with which they have taken up the challenge, and expounded their views.

An immense amount can be done at university to lay spiritual foundations, to provide a firm basis upon which the individual can build, to give the student a source of strength. The revival of interest in religion, especially by debate and discussion, provides a means of helping many students who are on the fringe of belief, and in honest doubt.

Letters to the Editor

The Lesser Evil?

Sir:

Of the very thought-provoking articles on Prison Life in Quebec, the one entitled "Prisoners Reveal Selves" made me halt in my tracks. This article dealt in part with the phenomenal rampage of homosexuality in prisons caused by the inability of men inmates to satisfy their sex drives in the accepted manner. It is true to say, therefore, that a man accustomed to female companionship will, if denied his natural counterpart, in time turn to his own sex and release in this way his repressed desires.

The horror of this situation is that on release from prison, this man may be incapable of rechanneling these desires into natural courses.

As the same article stated 'science has yet to find a harmless drug which will palliate man's appetites,' it becomes apparent that desires cannot be suppressed by scientific means, and as Man himself cannot ignore them, desires must have an outlet.

If prison authorities are cognizant, as they assuredly are, with the rampant homosexuality in their prisons and continue to ignore the social and moral implications of such activity, then they are wilfully injuring society.

Where does the cure lie?

In Wilson's 'My Six Convicts,' one reads of penitentiary inmates having access to means by which women were smuggled into the prison. In Mexico, a certain large penitentiary allows men to be with their wives or mistresses for a two hour period once a week. During this period cell mates will give the visitor full privacy by leaving the cell. They in turn receive the same privacy when they desire it.

Here, at least, are two ways in which perverseness in prisons is discouraged. But what of the men without wives or mistresses, some will ask? This brings up the question of whether Prostitution should be legalised in prisons; if not, whether authorities should turn a blind eye on such procedure. Which evil should be tolerated in fact? Homosexuality or Prostitution?

As Prostitution is an accepted although illegal practice in this society, surely prison authorities should allow it in prisons in the interests of their 'wards' and society as a whole. One homosexual can do a lot of harm in the confined spaces of prison life; he may corrupt many men who under normal circumstances would be the first to attack the very thing they find themselves bowing down to.

These are the facts as one member of society sees them. What is right? Prostitution or Homosexuality? The one, an already accepted aspect of society; the other, a growing menace in society. There is no use in hiding from reality. It is only by facing it that Man can progress and through progression help those who may be suffering from the defects of a disinterested authority.

ARTS AND SCIENCE ELECT TWO

Sigmund Ein

Student government is a responsibility which should be approached with sincere effort, and, if elected, I shall do my best in fulfilling this obligation.

Specifically, I would like to advocate:

(a) a co-ordinated financial policy, flexible enough to ensure the proper support of all the present and developing student interests, yet strong enough to avoid any unnecessary wastage of student funds.

(b) the setting up of a second hand book exchange supplying all faculties at McGill.

(c) a student referendum on the new Union constitution.

(d) posting of S.E.C. minutes on all notice boards so that at all times the students can be fully aware of what their government is doing.

Sigmund Ein

Pen Sketch

Siggie Ein came to McGill from Westmount High School where he played Senior football and was editor of the school newspaper.

Siggie is in pre-med at McGill and he has worked in such campus activities as Combined Charities, the formal dances, Freshman Reception, the McGill Daily, and the Red and White Revue and has shown a sincere and keen interest in all McGill activities and events.

In all his endeavours, we feel Siggie has shown the ability, the judgment, and the friendly personality required for this position.

Roy Heenan

Basically I feel that a majority of the Student Body is unaware of the duties entrusted to the S.E.C.

It is my aim to keep the students in closer touch with the work of the Council, and thus all can more fully participate in the administration of student affairs.

Such worthwhile organizations as the W.U.S. should receive more attention. I would like to see the excellent publicity job of the last two weeks continued.

I can only promise, if elected, to do my utmost to represent the interests of our faculty.

Roy Heenan

Pen Sketch

Roy is an honours student in History and Political Science. Since his arrival at McGill he has participated in all phases of campus life. An intercollegiate and Gold "A" debater, he is on the Debating Union executive, and chairman of the Winter Carnival Debating Conference. Roy is also associate editor of the Fig Leaf, and on the Winter Carnival executive. In sports he was intramural squash champion 1955 and played on the championship intramural football team 1955. Last year he was also elected to the Scarlet Key.

Roy's ability and experience, we feel, would make him an excellent representative to the S.E.C.

Ralph Ordower

A successful carrying through of the recent parking survey, a genuine attempt to help student and professor contacts, increased McGill participation in student exchanges and international groups like WUS — these form the planks of my platform. A sincere willingness to do constructive things of this sort, to heed all suggestions coming from the student body, and to always do my best — these are my intentions if elected.

Ralph Ordower

Pen Sketch

An honours student with distinctive standing, Ralph has had the support of the student body behind him in his endeavours during his three years at McGill as is shown by his election to the position of Class Treasurer '53, Class President '54, and his membership in Scarlet Key '54 where he was in charge of the Foreign Student Recreation program.

His ability in these capacities has led to appointments on the Arts and Science Executive '54, Hillel Governing Board '54, and the Debating Union '55 as Intercollegiate Chairman.

Ralph's capability in any project undertaken shows clearly in his debating record: Intercollegiate Debating Team 1953-55; Arts and Science Interclass Champion 1953; Senior Trials Champion 1954; Gold "A" Award 1954.

Because of his proven interest and enthusiasm in student affairs, we the undersigned urge you to support Ralph as Arts & Science representative to the SEC.

ENGINEERING

Lawrence Burpee

Recognizing the fact that, if elected, I will hold only one vote on the Students Executive Council, I do not intend to lay forth any dogmatic platform. While it is a popular election, I announce that one will obtain all sorts of amazing and previously unheard-of benefits for the Faculty of Engineering, I think that every thinking voter will realize that it is not within the power of the representative alone to enact all such interesting pipe-dreams.

Manna from heaven does not come easily to the Engineer. Consider how valiantly your representative will have to battle against the encroaching proposals of 2 Arts & Science representatives. Consider also that this year there will be no female representatives on the S.E.C. These are only two of the many burdens which your representative must shoulder. I am quite willing to shoulder them.

Lawrence Burpee

Pen Sketch

From a knowledge of Laurie Burpee's character and capabilities, we, the undersigned, support him for election to the S.E.C. At his previous school, Laurie was President of the Debating Society & Editor-in-Chief of the Magazine.

At McGill, he has worked on almost every phase of the Winter Carnival and Athletics Nights. He also participated in the McGill Open House and in this year's Engineering Freshman Reception.

Laurie is also an Officer Cadet in the Quebec Command Contingent of the COTC and a scholarship student at McGill.

We can only give you his qualifications. It is up to you to vote.

George Hamilton

If elected as the engineering representative on the SEC I intend to continue to promote the spirit of our faculty through-out all phases of campus activities. It is my firm belief that our faculty is more than pulling its fair weight and I therefore shall fully uphold the feelings of the E.U.S. in any discussion of major campus policy which may in any way affect us. To this aim I will make no rash promises but will work with the President and the Executive of the E.U.S. towards furthering our undergraduate society.

George Hamilton

Pen Sketch

We place our full confidence in George.

The many activities he has so ably carried out in the Scarlet Key, as Assistant Stadium Manager, as the Engineering House Manager, on the Mount Royal Night Executive of Winter Carnival, as Commodore of the McGill Sailing Club, on the Engineering Fall Informal Committee, and on the many engineering intramural teams, more than adequately demonstrate that George will make the ideal representative from Engineering on the SEC. Dan Wainberg

As every good engineer knows, all well constructed platforms require strong supporting beams. The key member of my platform is a continuous, unflinching support of the interests of every engineer in all campus activities.

If elected, I will strive to institute the following points:

(1) To attempt to increase the representation of the Engineering Faculty in the S.E.C. At present, we have 20% of the students and only 5% of the S.E.C. vote

(2) To try to open in the Engineering Building canteen service similar to that of George's in the Union.

(3) To rectify the present confused locker situation.

Dan Wainberg

In order to represent the engineers in the S.E.C., we the undersigned feel that the candidate firstly must be able to express himself well in order to translate the opinions of all the engineers; and secondly, he must be a good executive so as to undertake the responsibilities and duties of an S.E.C. representative.

Dan entered McGill from Westmount High, where he was editor of the annual and the newspaper. At McGill, his activities are many and varied:

As a former member of the Dental Undergraduate Society Executive and Associate Editor of the McGill Dental Review I feel that I have had an adequate appreciation of the workings of the undergraduate body to be able to represent its views in the proper perspective before the Student's Executive Council.

If I am elected to the S.E.C. I will do my best to represent the views of the undergraduate body before the Student's Council.

Ernest Burman

Ernest graduated from Strathcona Academy in 1950, and then entered the Faculty of Science at McGill. In 1953, after completing three years in science, he was admitted to Dentistry, where he became active in extra-curricular activities.

Ernie served on the staff of the McGill Dental Review from 1953-55 as reporter and as associate editor in 1955-56. In 1954-55 he was on the D.U.S. executive as reporter. Athletically Ernie participated in several intramural sports including touch football and volleyball.

WOMEN'S UNION

VICE-PRESIDENT

Joyce Benson

Joyce, second year science student, entered McGill from Westmount High. While there she was Students' Council Secretary for two years and Vice-President for one. She was in charge of the Christmas Show, Birks' sales, worked on the Social committee, school paper, dramatic productions.

At McGill she has helped with Combined Charities, dance decorations and knows about the Women's Union through her work in the book exchange.

Because of her outstanding executive ability, genuine interest in campus activities, and personality, we, the undersigned feel Joyce will be a most competent and responsible Vice-President of the Women's Union.

Water Poloists Meet YMCA In Pre-Championship Game

by Harvey Kolodny

Tonight the McGill Redmen play host to the YMCA in a senior water polo return engagement. The Red and White squad will be out to avenge the 7-6 defeat handed them by the "Y" in the teams' first meeting. This will be the final test for Barry Thompson's boys before meeting Toronto in a two game total point series for the Intercollegiate championship.

Coach Thompson has named tonight's line-up and this same team will probably start against Toronto. The starting seven will have Robbie Cook at centre with Charlie Evelyn and Fred Weinstein on the wings. Art Rosenberg, captain of the team, and Brahm Gelfand will be the defense in front of goalie John Duarte-Chabrol while Bernie Toporowski will play the half position. Rod Roy and George Easdon will substitute the forwards with Ed Adelson alternating on defense.

The first game against Toronto is scheduled for this Saturday, December 3, 2:30 pm at the McGill pool, with the second game on December 10 in Toronto. Barry Thompson has lined up several swimming races between YMCA and McGill to take place after the game.

The swimming team is looking forward to bringing the Intercollegiate swimming championship back to McGill after a year's absence, and the prospects look good. The team held an intra-squad meet last Friday and Coach Thompson was very pleased with the results. Lloyd Kishino covered the 50 yards butterfly in 25.5 seconds; this is 0.6 seconds off the world record for this event.

The water polo game is called for 9 pm at the McGill pool.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Volleyball

The following teams are scheduled to play in the tournament tonight at 7:30—Science, Physio, Phys-Ed. I and Phys-Ed. II.

Last Wednesday Commerce defeated Phys-Ed. I, but the Phys-Ed. squad came to beat the Arts III team. Phys-Ed. II shone that evening trouncing both of their opponents, Commerce and Arts III. By virtue of these wins, Phys-Ed. II remain undefeated and are now leading the league.

Miss Gerstman has announced that the McGill team will play an exhibition match this Sat. at 2:30.

Squash

There will be a tournament in this sport next week. All girls interested in playing should sign up by Friday.

Basketball

On Monday, Medicine and Phys-Ed. II won games by default over Commerce and Physio-Arts.

Six games have been completed now by each team in the Monday night and Thursday night sections. Phys-Ed. II and Science are leading the race in the Monday night group while Phys-Ed. IV is ahead in the Thursday night play.

COMING SOON

The McGill Daily sports writers association will present an authentic review of some of the best sports movies ever produced. Be sure to watch for this unique review.

NOTICE

There will be a McGill C.O.T.C. Football game at the Black Watch on Friday, December 2nd. All members are asked to report at the Locker Room in the Gymnasium at 7:30 pm.

Dental Undergrads To Entertain U of M

The McGill Dental Undergraduate's Society will play host to the University of Montreal at a reception to be held this Friday evening. The programme will begin at 7:30 pm in McGill's new dental clinic on the third floor of the Montreal General Hospital.

The first part of the evening will consist of a welcome speech and addresses which will be followed by conducted tours through the clinic. Later on the students will be given transportation to the McGill Union where cocktails will be served and an orchestra will provide music for dancing.

ATTENTION ALL DAILY STAFFERS!

There will be a very important meeting for all Daily staffers at 1 pm today in the offices downstairs. Constitutional changes and other vital issues will be discussed. It is essential that everyone attends.

International House Is Aim Of Carpet Show

To establish an International House at McGill is one of the current aims of McGill's Flying Carpet, and with this in mind all proceeds of this year's show, Flying Saucers, will be donated towards the house.

The house would be a residence and center for all foreign students at the university, and the plan has been approved "wholeheartedly" by the McGill Board of Governors.

Chairman Al Goodings of the Flying Carpet committee said his group is attempting to produce "a very colorful variety of entertainment." Goodings is also producer, while Walter Zavaddell is director and John Wickenden assistant director. Dick Avison is technical director, and Jim Hirayama and Brian Johnson are in charge of publicity.

Tickets go on sale Dec. 4 in the main campus buildings, and will also be on sale at the door the four nights of the show, which runs from Dec. 7 to 10.
